CHAPTER II.

"H. what is the hour, Mr. John? Shall I call you Seymour? That is your second name, is it not? But what would people say? I—No, no, not again. We really must go in. See! I am not dressed for the evening yet. Supper will be ready. Now, Lieutenant Seymour, you must let me go. What will my father think of us? Come, then—your hand, sir."

The hill from the boat landing was steep, but Miss Kate had often run like a young deer to the top of it without appreciating its difficulties as she did that evening. On every stepping stone, each steep ascent, she lingered in spite of her expressed desire for haste, and each time his strong and steady arm was at her service. She tasted to the full and for the first time the sweets of loving dependence.

As for him, an admiral of the fleet after a victory could not have been prouder and happier. As any other man would have done, he embraced or improved the opportunity afforded him by their journey up the hill to urge the old comrade that he would so assist her up the hill of life, and so on. The iterations of love never grow stale to a lover, and the saying was not so trite to her that it failed to give her the little thrill of loving joy which seemed, for the moment at least, to tame her restless spirit, that spirit of subtle yet merry mockery which charmed yet drove him mad. She was so unwontedly quiet and subdued that he stopped at the brow of the hill and said, half in alarm, "Katharine, why so silent?"

She looked at him gravely, a new light, not of laughter, in her brown eyes, saying in answer to his unspoken thoughts: "I was thinking of what you said about your orders. Oh, if they should come today, and you should go away on your ship and be shot at again and perhaps wounded, what should I do?"

"Nonsense, Katharine, dear! I am not going to be wounded any more. I've something to live for now, you see," he replied, smiling, taking both of her hands in his own.

"You always had something to live for, even before you had me."

"And what was that, pray?"

"Your country."

"Yes," he replied proudly, taking off his laced hat, "and liberty. But you go together in my heart now, Kate—your country."

"Don't say that, John—well, Seymour, then. Say 'country and you.' I would give you up for that, but only for that."

"You would do well, Katharine; our country first. Since we have engaged in this war we must succeed. I fancy that more depends—and I only agree with your father there—upon the issue of this war than men dream of, and that the battle of liberty for the future man is being fought right here and now. Unless our people are willing to sacrifice everything we cannot maintain that glorious independence which has been so brilliantly declared." He said this with all the boldness of the woman, asked him wistfully: "Would you give me up, sacrifice me, for country then?"

"Not for the whole wide"—She laid a finger upon his lips.

"Hush, hush! Do not even speak treason to the creed. I am a daughter of Virginia. My father, my brother, my friends, my people, and yes, I will say it, my lover, are periling their lives and have engaged their honor in this contest for the independence of these colonies, for the cause of this people and the safeguarding of their liberties, and if I stood in the pathway of liberty for a single instant I should despise the man who would not sweep me aside without a moment's hesitation." She spoke with a pride and spirit which equaled his own, her head high in the air and her eyes flashing.

She had released her hands and had suited the gesture to the word, throwing out her hand and arm with a movement of splendid freedom and defiance. She was a woman of many moods and "infinite variety." Each moment showed him something new to love. He caught the outstretched hand—the loose sleeve had fallen back from the wrist—he pressed his lips to the white arm and said, with all his soul in his voice:

"May God prevent me from ever facing the necessity of a choice like that, Katharine! But indeed it is spirit like yours which makes men believe the cause is not wholly desperate. When our women can so speak and feel we may confidently expect the blessing of God upon our efforts."

"Father says that it is because General Washington knows the spirit of the people, because he feels that even the youths and maidens, the little children, cherish this feeling, he takes heart and is confident of ultimate success. I heard him say that no king could stand against a united people."

"Would that you could have been in Paris with your father when he pleaded with King Louis and his ministers for aid and recognition. We might have returned with a better answer than paltry money and a few thousand stand of arms, which are only promised after all."

"Would that I were a man instead of being a weak, feeble woman!" she exclaimed vehemently.

"Ah, but I very much prefer you as you are, Katharine, and 'tis not little that you can do. You can inspire men with your own patriotism, if you will. There, for instance, is your friend Talbot. If you could persuade him, with his wealth and position and influence in this country, to join the army in New Jersey"—As she shook her head he continued:

"I am sure, if he thought as I do of you, you could persuade him to anything but treachery or dishonor." His calm smile of superiority vanished in an expression of dismay at her reply: "Talbot! Hilary Talbot! Why, John, do you know that he is—well, they say that he is in love with me. Everybody expects that we shall marry some day. Do you see? These old estates join, and—"

"Kate, it isn't true, is it? You don't care for him, do you?" he interrupted in sudden alarm.

"Care for him? Why, of course I care for him. I have known him ever since I was a child, but I don't love him. Besides, he stays at home while others are in the field. Silly boy, would I have let you kiss me in the summer house if it were so? No, sir! We are not such fine ladies as your friends in the city of Philadelphia perhaps, we Virginia country girls upon whom your misses look with scorn, but no man kisses us, and no man kisses me, upon the lips except the one I—that I must—let me see—is the word 'obey'? Shall you make me obey you all the time, John?"

"Tshaw, Katharine, you never obey anybody—so your father says, at least—and if you will only love me that will be sufficient."

"Love you!" The night had fallen, and no one was near. "Love you, John!" She kissed him bravely upon the lips. "Once, that's for me, my own; twice, that's for my country. There is all my heart. Come, sir, we must go in. There are lights in the house."

"Ah, Katharine, and there is light in my heart too!"

As they came up the steps of the high pillared porch which completely covered the face of the building they were met at the great door which gave entrance to the spacious hallway extending through the house by a stately and gracious, if somewhat elderly, gentleman.

There was a striking similarity, if not in facial appearance at least in the erect carriage and free air, between him and the young girl, who, disregarding his outstretched hand and totally disorganizing his ceremonious bow, threw her arms about his neck and kissed him with unvoiced warmth, much to his dismay and yet not altogether to his displeasure. Perhaps he suspected something from the bright and happy faces of the two young people, but if so he made no comment, merely telling them that supper had been waiting this long time and bidding them hasten their preparation for the meal.

Katharine, followed by Chloe, her black maid, who had been waiting for her, hastily ran up the stairs to her own apartments upon this signal, but turned upon the topmost stair and waved a kiss to the two gentlemen who were watching her—one with the dim eyes of an old father, the other with the bright eyes of a young lover.

"Colonel Wilton," exclaimed Seymour impulsively, "I have something to say to you—something I must say." "Not now, my young friend," replied the colonel genially. "Supper will be served—nay, is served already—and only awaits you and Katharine; afterward we shall have the whole evening, and you may say what you will."

"Oh, but, colonel!"

"Nay, sir, do not lay upon me the unpleasant duty of commanding a guest when it is my privilege as host to entertain. Go, Mr. Seymour, and make you ready. Katharine will return in a moment, and it does not become gentlemen, much less officers, to keep a lady waiting, you know. Philip and Bentley have gone fishing, and I am informed they will not return until late. We will not wait for them."

"As you wish, sir, but I must have some private conversation with you as soon as possible."

"After supper, my boy; after supper."

Called Out the Militia.

Houston, Tex., June 4.—There was some turbulence in the streetcar strike, several men being hurt, but none seriously, and last evening the mayor ordered the Light Guards to disperse a crowd which had gathered about the offices of the streetcar company. The militia is held at the armory to await further orders. The streetcar company has secured a number of strike breakers and a few cars are running.

Entertainment is Promised.

BIG POINT GAINED

First Line of Outer Fortifications at Port Arthur Taken by Japs.

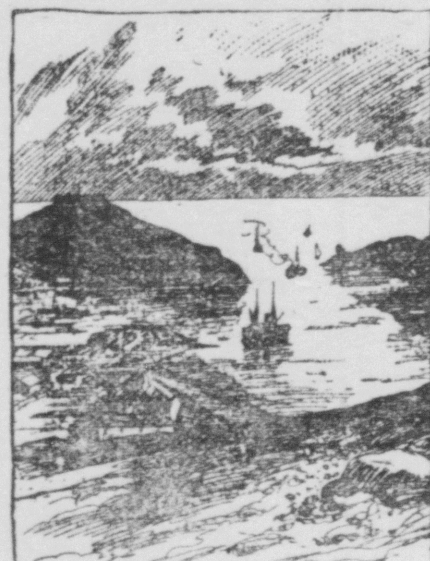

A FEEBLE RESISTANCE

Russians Desert Important Post and Japanese Train Heavy Artillery on the Fort.

By Order of the Czar Kuropatkin Must Send Reinforcements South.

St. Petersburg, June 4.—The emperor, adopting Vice Admiral Alexieff's views, has ordered General Kuropatkin to send 40,000 men to the relief of Port Arthur.

Tokio, June 4.—The Japanese have occupied the first line of the outer fortifications of Port Arthur after a feeble resistance. Four divisions of Japanese troops have occupied Kwan Tung Heights, on which they placed heavy artillery dominating Port Arthur. The Russian squadron attempted a sortie but was forced to return, being threatened by the Jap fleet.

London, June 4.—No further light has been thrown upon the rumors concerning General Kuropatkin's intentions. Dispatches in the Morning Post from Shanghai and to the Chronicle from New Chwang repeat the reports of the movement of the 15,000 Russians to Kaiping. The correspondent asserts that five days' fighting took place at Wafangtien and that the Russians are employing 4,000 carts to remove munitions from Liao to Kal Yuen, seventy miles north of Mukden. The Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent also says that General Mischenko has sent 4,000 cavalry of the Imperial guard from Kuang Cheng Tsu to cut off the Japanese at Pitsewo. No great reliance, however, should be placed on these dispatches, which have evidently some common Chinese origin.

The Daily Mail's correspondent at Mukden, telegraphing under date of June 3, says that fighting occurs daily beyond Liao Yang, but that a decisive battle is not expected for some time. The Japanese plan of campaign is regarded at Mukden as having now been definitely disclosed. They occupy the Liao Tung peninsula in three divisions between Nakwanling and Wafangtien with a line of communication by the coast to their position at Feng Wang Cheng.

The Standard's Tokio correspondent mentions the discredited rumor that General Stoessel proposed a surrender on the condition that the whole of the Port Arthur garrison should be permitted to retire to New Chwang under arms.

London, June 4.—Field Marshal Yamagata has been appointed commander-in-chief of all the forces in the field. He is expected to proceed to the Liao Tung district shortly.

A QUIET MARKET

Conditions Based Upon Probable Out-turn of Crops.

New York, June 4.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: Pending a clearer view of future crop out-turn, general trade in industry is quiet to the verge of dullness. Crop prospects have improved in some sections, but complaints come from others, so that the situation is as a whole still irregular. The volume of May business both at wholesale and retail was disappointing, confirmation of this being found in decreases in bank earnings and railway earnings from a year ago, while failures were more numerous, though less costly, than in recently preceding months, while showing increases on a year ago. Iron and steel, bituminous coal and cotton manufacturing are notably quiet for this season of the year. There are, however, some signs of underlying confidence in future trade. Collections partake of trade irregularity, but are still classable as fair. Prices of staples show a general sagging tendency, part of which is seasonal. Briefly summed up the situation generally centers upon the probable out-turn of the growing crops, and until this matter is settled most authorities look for comparative quiet in most lines.

WITHOUT WARRANT

Were Contempt Proceedings Against Editor Daniels.

Raleigh, N. C., June 4.—The contempt proceedings of Federal Judge Burnell against Editor Josephus Daniels of the News and Observer, who has been in custody since Monday for refusal to pay a $3,000 fine, were dismissed yesterday and Mr. Daniels was released. The habeas corpus hearing was held by Judge J. C. Pritchard, who said that he failed to find anything that would warrant the action, and hence ordered the respondent dismissed. Mr. Daniels was fined by Judge Purnell for editorially criticizing the judge for his action in appointing receivers for the Atlantic & North Carolina railroad. The appointment of receivers was overruled by Chief Justice Fuller, and now Judge Pritchard has released Mr. Daniels. Telegrams of congratulation are pouring in on Mr. Daniels.

Boy Killed His Mother.

Trenton, N. J., June 4.—Nathan Sibbett, the fourteen-year-old boy who was arrested last Sunday on the charge of being responsible for the death of his mother, whose body was found at her home in a partly decomposed condition, has been formally committed on a charge of murder. According to the testimony of the officers the lad had a quarrel with his mother on the Tuesday before her body was found, and he pushed her from the top of the stairs to her death resulting. The boy then covered her body with bedclothing and left the house.

Five Million Dollar Pipeline.

Chanute, Kan., June 4.—A party of Standard Oil officials from New York touring the Kansas oil fields in a special train, practically admitted to a committee of the Chanute Commercial club that they had decided to recommend the building of an eight-inch pipeline from Kansas City to Whiting, Ind., to care for the Kansas production. The line, it is estimated, will cost $5,000,000.

Gypsies Are Blamed.

Brazil, Ind., June 4.—The interest in the disappearance of the four-year-old son of Dr. Byers of Seelyville, west of here, continues unabated. Searching parties are still working day and night, but nothing has been found to throw the slightest light on the affair. Dr. Byers' firm belief is that his child has been spirited away by Gypsies.

Will Mean Resumption.

Pittsburg, June 4.—A resumption of all the departments of the pressed steel car company is assured by an order which has just been booked. The company was the successful bidder on the big Harriman lines car contract let in New York for 2,000 new high capacity steel cars.

Two Miners Killed.

Thurber, Tex., June 4.—Eli Thomas and H. M. Long were killed here in Shaft No. 5 of the Thurber Coal company. They were crushed beneath heavy timbers which had become weakened by a fire in the shaft.

Off for the Summer.

Washington, June 4.—Three of President Roosevelt's children, Ethel, Quentin and Archibald, accompanied by two maids have left Washington for Oyster Bay for the summer.

MADE QUICK WORK

When Illinois Republicans Got Down to Work It Was Soon Over.

DENEEN FOR GOVERNOR

By a Combination Engineered by Gov. Yates the Long Deadlock Was Finally Broken.

Charles S. Deneen Was Named As Head of Ticket and Other Places Quickly Filled.

Springfield, Ill., June 4.—By making a combination with Charles S. Deneen, L. Y. Sherman, Howland J. Hamlin and John H. Pierce, Governor Yates late yesterday afternoon broke the deadlock in the Republican state convention and brought about the nomination of Deneen for governor. The nomination was made on the 79th ballot, which stood: Yates, 1; Lowden, 52½; Deneen, 957½; Warner, 21.

The combination was the result of a series of conferences which were participated in by Yates, Deneen, Hamlin, Sherman and Pierce. The agreement had not been consummated when the convention met at 10 o'clock in the morning and the Yates and Deneen people forced a recess until 2 p. m.

Then the parties to the combination met and finally agreed upon Deneen as the candidate. When the convention reconvened Yates, Hamlin and Sherman withdrew their names and urged their friends to vote for Deneen.

When the 79th roll call was ordered and Adams county led off with "One vote for Yates and 19 for Deneen," the wildest excitement prevailed. As the call proceeded it became evident that the new combination in Illinois politics would win, but the original Lowden men for the most part remained firm and went to defeat with him.

When the call was completed Lowden moved to make the nomination unanimous and Chairman Cannon declared the motion carried. All of the pent-up enthusiasm of the delegates manifested itself as Deneen came to the platform and briefly thanked the convention for the honor. In response to the demands of the assemblage Colonel Lowden made an address, pledging his support to the ticket. The convention now took up the nomination of a candidate for lieutenant governor, but the leaders of the new combination were not prepared for this and a recess was taken until 8 p. m. In the meantime the parties to the combination which had nominated Deneen met at the executive mansion and prepared a slate for the remainder of the ticket.

At the evening session the making up of the ticket was rapidly proceeded with. L. Y. Sherman of McDonough was nominated for lieutenant governor; James A. Rose of Golconda (present incumbent) for secretary of state; Len Small of Kankakee for state treasurer; James S. McCullough of Champaign (present incumbent) for state auditor; W. H. Stead of Ottawa for attorney general. The following nominations were made for university trustees: Mrs. Mary E. Bussey, Champaign; Charles Davidson, Chicago; W. L. Abbott, Chicago.

The ticket went through according to the slate agreed upon at the executive mansion conference except in the case of B. M. Chipperfield, whom W. H. Stead defeated for attorney general. At 11:46 the convention adjourned sine die.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 4.—Thomas H. Wilson, vice president of the First National bank, announces that a shortage of $7,500 has been discovered in the accounts of an employee and that the same had been covered up by fraudulent entries in the bank's books. "The man who kept the books," said Mr. Wilson, "is absent from the city and we do not know his present whereabouts."

Tornado Wrecks Churches.

Serious Kansas Floods.

THE NEW WOMAN.

Mrs. Emma Mitchell, 520 Louisiana street, Indianapolis, Ind., writes:

"For the past five years I have rarely been without pain, but Peruna has changed all this, and in a very short time. I think I had taken only two bottles before I began to recuperate very quickly, and seven bottles made me well. I do not have headache or backache any more, and have some interest in life."

Emma Mitchell.

The coming of what is known as the "new woman" in our country is not greeted by everyone as it should be a great blessing. But there is another new woman whom every body is glad to see. Every day some invalid woman is exclaiming, "I have been made a new woman by Dr. Hartman's home treatment." It is only necessary to send name, address, symptoms, duration of sickness and treatment already received to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, and directions for one month's treatment will be promptly forwarded.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

OVERLOOKED ORDERS

A Colorado "Flyer" Was Wrecked and Nine Persons Killed.

Kansas City, June 4.—Nine persons were killed and many injured in a collision of passenger trains on the Missouri Pacific railroad near Mastin City, fifteen miles south of Kansas City. The trains, which met head on, were the westbound Colorado Limited No. 1 and the eastbound Hoisington, Kan., accommodation, No. 36.

Train No. 1, the Colorado "flyer," had orders to meet No. 36 at Mastin. The crew, it is believed, overlooked its orders and met Train 36 south of Mastin tank about one and one-third miles south of Mastin. The engines were both large and were demolished. The day coach on the accommodation was telescoped, but the chair-car was not injured. The mail car on the "flyer" was telescoped and the end of the baggage car stove in.

A Profitable Export.

Washington, June 4.—In a report to the department of commerce and labor, United States Consul Hamm says that notwithstanding the duty of 25 cents a bushel, Yorkshire, England, always is able to export to the United States large quantities of potatoes and sell them there at a profit. Mr. Hamm says the season of 1903 was especially unfavorable, the excessive rains causing a loss of fully one-third of the crop by rotting, despite which exports continue to be made to the United States.

A MAN CAN'T swim in shackles.

of his winning a race, but a question of being able only to keep afloat. The man who is suffering from malnutrition is like the fettered swimmer. His stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased. It is not a question with him of winning in the race for business, but of simply keeping up under any circumstances. Whenever disease affects the stomach it is affecting also the blood and the health of every organ of the body. For blood is only food converted into nutrition and nutrition is the life of the body and every organ of it.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood and enables the perfect nutrition of the body which means perfect health.

"For six long years I suffered with indigestion and my liver and kidneys, which baffled the best doctors in our country," writes E. L. Russell, Esq., of Woolsey, Prince William Co., Va. "I suffered with my stomach and back for a long time, and after taking a cart-load of medicine from three doctors I grew so bad I could hardly do a day's work. Would have death-like pains in the side, and blind spells. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'pleasant pellets.' Before I had taken half of the second bottle I began to feel relieved. I got six more bottles and used them, and am happy to say I owe my life to Dr. Pierce."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 large pages, in paper cover, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Township Primary Election.

Notice is hereby given to the republicans of Jackson township, Jackson county, Indiana, that the republican township primary election will be held Saturday, June 18, 1904, on which date a candidate for township trustee and a candidate for township assessor will be nominated.

By order of the township committee, C. D. BILLINGS, Chairman.
With Judge Parker, "mum is the word." He is saying nothing and has said nothing only that he thinks he could manage the presidential job. That is the only opinion that he has ventured to offer the public.

IF THERE has ever been a reduction of tariff duties according to the principles now advanced by the Democratic leaders that has not been followed by great depression in business, we should like to know where in the history of the country it is to be found.

MANY are the misfortunes that have befallen the Democratic party, but not in forty years has come to it another such a fearful mischance as that which paralyzed it when it elected Grover Cleveland president in 1892 and a Democratic congress in addition. It will be many a campaign before the party fully recovers what it lost when in that election it thought it had won.

IT IS said that Senator Beveridge is one of the men chosen to second the nomination of President Roosevelt at the Chicago convention. He will speak for the middle west. H. S. Edwards, of Macon, Georgia, will second the nomination on behalf of the southern states, Joseph Colton, of Duluth, Minn., will speak for the northwest, and Geo. A. Knight, of California, for the Pacific slope.

THE Illinois republican state convention did manage to get together Friday and nominated Chas. S. Deneen, of Chicago, for governor. Governor Yates withdrew and threw his support to the winner. The convention ended in harmony and the defeated candidates pledged their support to the nominee. Deneen is a strong man and has made a great reputation as state's attorney at Chicago.

A DISPATCH from Birmingham, Alabama, says: "A number of influential Democrats have received letters from August Belmont, the well known New York banker and railroad magnate, urging that the Alabama delegation to the national Democratic convention be instructed for Judge Parker, for the good of the party at large." August Belmont is the very incarnation of Wall street influence. And John W. Kern, who ran for governor in Indiana four years ago on a platform breathing blood and slaughter against the Eastern financiers, has gone into political partnership with him.

Sued by His Doctor.

"A doctor here has sued me for $12.50, which I claimed was excessive for a case of cholera morbus," says R. White, of Coahuila, Cal. "At the trial he praised his medical skill and medicine. I asked him if it was not Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy he used as I had good reason to believe it was, and he would not say under oath that it was not." No doctor could use a better remedy than this in a case of cholera morbus, it never fails. Sold by C. W. Milhous.

SHOT GAS WELL.

Pressure of Gas Increased Very Materially.

The gas well at Hayden was "shot" about 1 o'clock this afternoon with a big charge of nitro-glycerine. This work was witnessed at a distance by a great crowd, many having gone out from here. The shot was successful and the pressure of gas was very materially increased. But just how strong the flow will be can not be told until after the drill is put down and the tubing cleared of rocks and other substance lodged therein.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Engineer Bruce Murphy went to Washington on No. 7 today. Roadmaster Welsh, of Mitchell, was in town for a while today. Fireman and Mrs. Harry French left this morning for a visit with friends and relatives at Seymour.—Washington Gazette.

In order to curtail expenses the B. & O. S-W. will require its local freight clerks to lay off ten days each during the summer months without pay. The order went into effect on June 1.

The Louisville division of the Pennsylvania lines is daily bringing north for Indianapolis, Chicago and other Northern markets twelve to fifteen carloads of strawberries, mostly shipped from New Albany, Ind.

The passenger department of the Pennsylvania has issued its summer excursion book for 1904, and it is up to the usual high standard, pictorially and typographically. Many of the illustrations are interesting in that they are new and show some of the recent improvements to that property. Several pages are devoted to St. Louis, and prospective world's fair visitors will find ample information as regard rates, etc.

Severe winters are always followed by good crop years. If this rule holds good there ought to be a bumper crop of corn this year, something that will add more to the national wealth and give a greater stimulus to trade and general business than any other one thing that could happen.

IMPORTANT EVIDENCE.

Being Taken at Bedford According to Reports.

It is believed that some very important evidence bearing on the Schafer murder is now going before the grand jury at Bedford. People never before summoned have been called and it is known that some new evidence has been secured which may result in uncovering the mystery.

Frank Vance, who was one of McDonalds attorneys and is familiar with all the evidence developed during the preparation and trial of that case, says that in his opinion, two men were implicated in the murder of Sarah Schafer. One was a Bedford man of middle age, he said. One man committed the deed, while another watched to see that it was done.

There is an impression among the people generally that those who sought to convict McDonald are not in sympathy with the present investigation and are not helping it along any.

THE BEGINNING OF THE GOSPEL.

TRAJAN'S EPISTLE TO PLINY.

Pliny, the younger, was born 61 A. D., was an author of considerable repute; a prominent lawyer, and an eloquent speaker. He held many offices under the Roman government attaining the rank of Consul in A. D. 100. Was appointed by the Emperor Trajan governor of Bithynia and Pontus. Died A. D. 115.

The genuineness of his letter to Trajan, and Trajan's answer are not questioned.

TRAJAN WRITES

"My Pliny—You have taken the method that you ought in examining the causes of those that had been accused as Christians, for indeed no certain and general form of judging can be ordained in this case.

These people are not to be sought for; but if they be accused and convicted, they are to be punished; but with this caution that he who denies himself to be a Christian and makes it plain that he is not so, by supplicating to our gods, although he had been so formerly, may be allowed pardon upon his repentance. As for libels sent without any author they ought to have no place in any accusation whatsoever, for that would be a thing of very ill example, and not agreeable to any reign."

These letters prove that Christians were numbered by multitudes of all ranks and conditions in A. D. 112. Also that they were put to death for their faith in Christ, whom they worshipped as God. Further at this early day they kept the first day as the Sabbath, and observed the sacrament of the Lord's supper. E. C. JACKA.

Buncoed on Train.

Allen Terry, of Mitchell, was buncoed out of some good money while on a B. & O. train on his way to St. Louis this week. He told his story to the police after he got to East St. Louis. He said that when on a train near Olney, Ill., he was approached by a well-dressed stranger, who handed him an envelope which he said contained forty one dollar bills and induced Terry to let him have two twenties in exchange.

Upon counting the money the stranger found that there were but twenty one dollar bills in the package and left ostensibly to get the balance from his daughter in the next car. He failed to return.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excretion of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were due to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It is the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits.

It is sold in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Write for one. Free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, remember the name, Swamp Root. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

FOOL PROOF and FIRE PROOF.

Why do you continue paying large light bills? We can save you 50 per cent. of your present light bills and give you 1,000 per cent. more light. These are broad claims, but nevertheless they are facts. We can furnish light any place and as much of it as you want. Call at our store and investigate this wonderful lighting system. Agents for Jackson county.

TESTIMONIAL.

MESRS. WATSON & CO., Indianapolis, Ind., Agents. March 1, 1904.
Dear Sirs:—Replying to your query as to whether I am pleased with the F. P. lighting system which you installed for me fifteen months ago, I will say that it has never given me one minute's trouble nor one dollar's expense. It gives the best light I ever saw for interior use. The actinic rays are of such a character as to make it very desirable when the perfectly natural colors of objects are to be distinguished without confusion.

As to cost of maintenance, I think my experience, based upon close observation, will warrant the statement that it is under $80 per annum, and our store is open every day in the year until 11 o'clock p. m., except on Sunday, one hour less. Under the same condition, and with the most approved facilities for the distribution of light, our bills for illuminating gas were about $200 per year, and for electric light (arcs) about $400 to $420 per annum, and at no time have we had more than one-half the light we now have.

I am particularly pleased with the light, and the fact that it is so economical makes it the more desirable.

As you can readily figure, I paid for my apparatus and cost of light in about four or five months. Yours truly, R. L. EADS.

IMPLICATES A COW.

Counterfeiter Says a Cow Gave Him Bad Money.

When Charles Johnson, of Mitchell, was asked Friday by Judge Anderson of the Federal court to explain how he became possessed of a number of counterfeit dollars which he was accused of making and passing, he said a cow had given them to him.

"How's that," asked the judge, mystified.

"Yes, sir," answered Johnson, unabashed, "a hand appeared from behind the cow and gave them to me. I often get money in that way."

"Who told you to go the cow," the judge queried.

"Spirits, your honor," promptly answered Johnson. "They came to me at night and told me to hunt the cow. This I did and then the hand appeared."

The case was postponed until fall, pending an investigation into the man's mental condition. Last March Capt. Halls, chief of the secret service, found a complete counterfeiting outfit at the man's home.

In the meantime that cow should be taken in hand and put through a rigid examination in an endeavor to learn what she is possessed of.

Peach Crop Prospects.

Cheering news comes from the great peach orchards stretched along the banks of the Ohio in Southern Indiana. The trees were filled with an unusual amount of bloom and there are prospects for the best crop in the history of the state. This is unusual as the fashion is to have the peach crop all killed off everywhere by the first of April or May. If we can get plenty of good peaches it will console us for the loss of several other things.

Marriage Statistics.

Statistics compiled by the state board of health shows that in 1903 there were 26,574 marriages in Indiana. The number of bridegrooms under twenty-one years of age was 895, and the number of brides under the same age was 6,851. To show that the advent of extreme old age does not absolutely dampen the fire of love, ninety of the bridegrooms were between seventy and eighty years old, and eleven of them had passed the four-score mark. Of the couples married, 2,366 were over forty years old.

Don't

1455 Second Street,
Louisville, Ky., April 14, 1903.

I have been weak and sickly for the past four years, caused by irregularity and carelessness regarding the laws of health, but about five months ago my condition became very serious. I had severe backache and suffered a constant dull pain in my head. I spent weary, painful days, and miserable, restless nights. The doctor told me that I must have patience.

His medicine did not, however, give me even temporary relief and as I had been told of the curative qualities of Wine of Cardui I decided to try it.

I found that it relieved me of pain. As my general health improved my other troubles were gradually diminished and after five weeks' use of the Wine of Cardui I was once more a well and happy woman.

Ms. L. M. Thompson

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow, banishes headaches, backaches and bearing-down pains. Severe headaches, bearing-down pains, indigestion, loss of appetite and nervousness are symptoms of female weakness and should be given prompt attention. If you are troubled with menstrual irregularities do not let them run on. They will certainly grow into dangerous and chronic troubles. Get a bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin treatment at once.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

MAKING HIM LOOK PLEASANT.

A pleasant surprise always awaits the contractor and builder when he visits our yard after getting prices elsewhere and seeing the superior quality of high grade lumber, hard-wood trim, flooring, laths, shingles and that we are selling at bed-rock prices. Our lumber is of high quality, well seasoned and beyond competition, price considered.

ASKS FOR RELEASE

Writ of Habeas Corpus Filed In the Case of James Gillespie.

IN JEOPARDY TWICE

Defendants in Rising Sun Murder Trial Case Their Action on Re-opening of the Jury.

Should Circuit Court Go Against Them They Will Appeal to Supreme Court.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., June 4.—Proceedings looking to the release of Jas. Gillespie from jail and Myron Barbour, his wife Carrie and Mrs. Belle Seward from bond, are under way here before Judge Downey. Captain Coles filed before Judge Downey, who is holding court here, a writ of habeas corpus, asking for the release of the four defendants. The allegations are that the defendants were placed in jeopardy once, when the jury was re-opened, and again when the new jury was sworn, and all placed on trial. This revives the question of jeopardy that was raised by the defense during the trial. Should Judge Downey rule against them the case will be taken to the supreme court at Indianapolis.

FREE TRADE TALK

Boston Theorists Have Things All Planned Out.

Boston, June 4.—The annual banquet of the American Free Trade League, held at Hotel Vendome last night, was especially notable in that the occasion marked the twentieth anniversary of the formation of the league and the 100th anniversary of the birth of Richard Cobden, the father of the free trade movement. The guests and speakers were Charles Francis Adams and Edward Atkinson of Boston and Louis R. Ehrlich of New York. Harvey N. Shepard of this city presided and about 150 members of the league were present.

Mr. Shepard declared that the United States eventually would have free trade and that it was as much out of place in a republic to have a protective tariff as it was to have an established church.

Charles Francis Adams, who was the first president of the league, paid a glowing tribute to the memory of Richard Cobden, and then arraigned the policy of protection, which he characterized as unjust to the common people. He was hopeful of the growth of a sentiment for free trade.

Edward Atkinson said that if this country would in truth become a world power and take its true position in the great commerce of the world, then it must remove the burdens upon its agriculture, manufactures and commerce embodied in our restrictive tariff, and by opening the door to the mutual service and mutual benefit of nations, compel European states to disarm in order to maintain any chance of competing with us except in the mere products of handwork and of labor verging on pauperism.

The last speaker of the evening was Louis R. Ehrlich of New York, who denounced protection as unfair and dishonest and a policy of "legalized graft."

Triumph of Modern Surgery.

Wonderful things are done for the human body by surgery. Organs are taken out and scraped and polished and put back, or they may be removed entirely; bones are spliced; pipes take the place of diseased sections of veins; antiseptic dressings are applied to wounds, bruises, burns and like injuries before infection sets in, which causes them to heal without maturation and in one-third the time required by the old treatment. Chamberlain's Pain Balm acts on this same principle. It is an antiseptic and when applied to such injuries, causes them to heal very quickly. It also allays the pain and soreness. Keep a bottle of Pain Balm in your home and it will save you time and money, not to mention the inconvenience and suffering with injuries entail. For sale by C. W. Milh us.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets Better than any Doctor's Prescription.

Mr. J. W. Turner, of Trubart, Va., says that Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done him more good than anything he could get from the doctor. If any physician in this county was able to compound a medicine that would produce such gratifying results in cases of stomach trouble, biliousness or constipation, his whole time would be used in preparing this one medicine. AMICABLE AGREEMENT

Was Arrived at in "Shoestring" District Controversy.

Indianapolis, June 4.—The result of the second conference between the county chairmen of the "shoestring" district regarding the plan for holding their convention will probably settle similar controversies before the state committee is called on. Three of the chairmen last week voted for a return to the old method of making the nominations. Madison county protested, but the date for the convention was fixed for June 16 at Lebanon. The protest of Madison county stuck, however, when the matter was brought before Chairman Goodrich. The convention will not be held until after the national convention, and the precedent has been established that where one county protests against the "excess rule" the protest is good. Chairman Goodrich repeated today that counties that are affected by the "excess rule" where each has a separate representative may nominate by any plan they see fit, providing that all the chairmen agree, as it is not the province or desire of the state committee to "butt in." The important point settled, however, is that a majority can't rule in the matter, but that a unanimous vote is necessary to get away from the plans laid out by the state committee. The result of the conference brought out one other important thing—that is that the state committee will not stand for the naming of delegates by county chairmen or candidates, so the new rules, as hard as they seem to some politicians, may work a reform after all.

The busiest politicians in Indianapolis at this time are the local prohibitionists, who are preparing for their national convention, which will begin here June 29. Charles E. Newlin, chairman of the state committee, has charge of the arrangements. He is confident that the convention will attract a crowd of several thousand people. Indiana, which is one of the principal prohibition states, is alone expected to contribute four or five thousand visitors. Although the prohibitionists haven't the ghost of a chance of victory they are very enthusiastic and the convention promises to be well worth attending. Some of the most distinguished members of the party will be here. The convention will be held in Tomlinson hall, but arrangements are being made for several other places of meeting, as Tomlinson hall will not be half large enough. This will be the only national convention of the year here. Six months ago the Commercial Club extended invitations to the two old parties, but the matter was never urged, as the project to build a large coliseum was dropped, so that Indianapolis is without a hall large enough.

One indication that the country at large is pretty certain that Senator Charles W. Fairbanks will be the nominee of the Republicans for vice president is the great demand for his biography. Not a day passes now without several requests being received at his office here for the desired information. Big newspapers and magazines are devoting a lot of space to "writing up" his career, to his family, and especially to his home and social life. Newspaper correspondents here are receiving frequent orders for stories regarding Senator Fairbanks and his life in Indiana, which is regarded by them as conclusive that the editors of the leading papers and magazines have made up their minds that Senator Fairbanks is to be nominated.

Louis Benua of Salem, a second district delegate to the Democratic national convention, will probably be a candidate for nomination for treasurer of state. Reliable information to that effect was obtained here today. Mr. Benua is one of the party leaders of the Third district—which by the way is the banner Democratic district of the state. He has never been a candidate for a state office, and his name has not been mentioned before in connection with the position mentioned here. His friends have been urging him to become a candidate, believing that he is deserving because of his party service and also that his section of the state is entitled to recognition.

HOOSIERS IN EVIDENCE

Indiana Building at World's Fair Fit-tingly Dedicated.

St. Louis, June 4.—The Indiana state building at the World's Fair was formally dedicated Friday. Hoosiers were in evidence everywhere during the day. They paraded through the grounds and made a splendid showing. President Frances made the address of welcome to the Indians. Speeches also were made by Governor Durbin, Lieutenant Governor Gilbert and Henry W. Marshall, speaker of the last Indiana house of representatives.

The Culver cadets acted as guard of honor for Governor Durbin, who formally accepted the Indiana building. Five thousand American Beauty roses were used in the decorations. The ceremonies were preceded by a parade which lasted an hour. Lieutenant Governor Newton W. Gilbert presided at the dedication ceremonies.

Seeking a Settlement.

Hanging Rock, Ohio, June 4.—This village today is exceptionally quiet and no further trouble is anticipated. Negotiations between the striking furnace workers and the representatives of the Hanging Rock Iron company for a settlement of the strike continue, but it is believed that no settlement will be reached until after the troops have departed.
